

Project Title: Field Assembly Unit, Lethenty, Aberdeenshire
Client: Schlumberger EPS (UK) Ltd
Project Value: £535,000
Project Status: Construction works completed 1999

This award-winning building is located on an elevated site in the rural location of Inverurie, in the shadow of Bennachie. The building was designed to have a minimal impact on the landscape and consists of offices, workshop and storage facilities, integrated around the existing mature woodland setting.

Built adjacent to existing facilities for Schlumberger, this facility consolidated several functions, removing them from temporary accommodation and allowing assembly processes to be streamlined. It is also notable as it forms part of Schlumberger's explosives handling complex, and other parts of the site were developed with the particular challenges of high explosive materials in mind.

This development was awarded 'Highly Commended' for Business in the 2002 Aberdeenshire Council Design Awards
